

Your Daily

DEUTERONOMY

With Apostle Andrew Wutawunashe

Saturday
18th May, 2019.

READ: Deuteronomy 16v16-22; 17

Deut 16v16,17:

As the Lord blesses you with life, health, substance and progress therein, He expects you from time to time to deliberately come or appear before Him with offerings proportionate to the way He has blessed you. This reflects a heart and mind that understands that it is not your power or ability that causes you to make progress, but the help and power of God.

While Israel's men were commanded to appear before the Lord in this way three times a year, in the same spirit you need to regard our periodic conventions as a special time for you to appear before the Lord with deliberately prepared generous offerings and service to God. Be diligent to attend our Pan African and World Christian Churches Convention in every 24th December to 1st January, our Preaching of the Cross every Easter, our Rural Conventions in Zimbabwe every August around the 10th, our Conventions in various nations as well as our Youth Conventions.

Consecrate yourself to the Lord today to attend these conventions and understand that the Lord takes them as your special times to appear before Him.

Think on Psalm 50v5, 6, 14, 15.

Deut 17v1:

As you serve the Lord or as you bring offerings to Him, the Lord always expects you to put Him first and to give your best, whether it is of time, service, worship effort or material or money offering. Today pray dedicating yourself to the Lord and pledging to Him your best in everything. This is the only manner of service or offering that moves God's heart to bless you.

Think on Deuteronomy 6v4, 5